News of Note — Databases changing for Fall Semester
The Library is making some changes to the list of subscription databases available on our website. These will take effect on July 1, 2012. We are cancelling some resources due to low usage and adding a streaming media resource. Please make the appropriate adjustments in your assignments if you utilize any of these.
Dropping:
- American National Biography
- Oxford English Dictionary
- Oxford Reference Premium
- Reference USA

Added:
- Films on Demand (see separate article for details)

Films On Demand
On April 1, the Library added a new resource – Films on Demand (no joke!!) We hope you will find many applications for coursework across campus. Here are some details about Films on Demand:

Streaming access to films from the leading source of high-quality video and multimedia for academic, vocational and life-skills content.
Includes films from The American Experience, PBS News Hour, Ken Burns, NOVA, TED, Frontline, Films for the Humanities & Sciences, and many, many others.
Create your own Favorites and Playlists by creating a user account.

Films on Demand is accessible in two ways: 1) from the Digital Resources: Alphabetical List on the main Library web page, 2) by searching the Online Catalog from the website page. You can search the catalog by keyword Films on Demand to see a list of all the records. If you are searching for a specific subject, include the phrase Films on Demand in your search. For example, “films on demand Bosnia”.

The Librarians plan to offer several workshops through CETL next year to help get you familiar with this marvelous new resource. Stay tuned!!
